101 BBC1	<	He pulled on a cigarette in the crook of his first finger,
102 BBC2		Felt the static electric charge of her perfect hour-glass figure
103 ITV1		As he undressed her with his eyes, her weakness was his talent
104 Channel 4		How could she know, as she stepped through the lights, that her dress would become transparent?
105 Channel 5		And with his face pressed to the screen, he muttered words he'd never dare to say if she could see him.
106 Sky1	<	All over the world at the very same time people sharing the same cheap sensation
107 Sky Living	<	The thrill of watching somebody watching those forbidden things we never mention
108 Sky Atlantic		The satellite looks down right now and forever
109 Watch		What it has pulled apart let no man tether his own body to his dream, his dream to someone else
110 GOLD		Oh no, oh no
111 Dave		She went back to a pitiful compromise; he'd go back to his family
112 ComedyCentral	<	But for the matter of a thousand miles that separated them entirely
113 Universal		In the hot unloving spotlight, with the secrets it arouses
114 Sysfy	<	Now they both know what it's like inside a pornographer's trousers
115 BBC THREE		And in a funny way it's anonymous, the satellite it blesses us and makes these dreams come true...
116 BBC FOUR		All over the world at the very same time, all over the world
